ATTENTION SCIENCE TEACHERS!

DO YOU NEED SUPPORT AND CREATIVE IDEAS FOR CONVEYING EVOLUTION TO YOUR STUDENTS?

KEPS IS HERE FOR YOU!

KIDS EVOLUTIONARY PERSPECTIVES SOCIETY

Thursday, Feb 9th, 10:00 a.m. – 4:10 p.m.
Alabama Museum of Natural History, University of Alabama
427 6th Ave, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487

Featuring hands-on workshops:
Tyler Rhodes, Artist and Animator
Evolution! Learning Science Through Art
12:50 – 1:50 p.m.

STUDENTS & FAMILIES WELCOME!

Additional Workshops

Chris Lynn & Hannah Tytus, Anthropology, UA — 10:00 – 11:00 a.m.
Anthropology is Elemental: A Sharable Model for Primary School Cross-cultural Evolution Education

Patricia Hawley, College of Ed, Texas Tech Univ — 1:55 – 2:55 p.m.
Declawing the Dinosaur in Your Classroom: Reducing Teacher Anxiety about Evolution

John Mead, McDermott Master Teacher of Science — 3:10 – 4:10 p.m.
"No more monkeying around!": Meaningful "Evolution Stories" for Middle and High School Students (and Their Teachers!)

College of Arts & Sciences

Hosted by:
Kids Evolutionary Perspectives Society (KEPS)
Southeastern Evolutionary Perspectives Society (SEEPS)
The Natural History Museum, The University of Alabama
For more info, email: cdlynn@ua.edu

ALABAMA Museum of Natural History THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA

SEEPS